

Speaker Profile

SAIGA
Developing Ethical Public Sector Professionals

Morongwa Makgamatho - A professional Speaker, is a self-driven Organisational Transformation, Strategy, Change Management and People Management & Development expert with over 26 years of working experience, 18 of which is in management consulting as an independent consultant. Before that, she worked for two of the big four consulting companies, KPMG and Accenture South Africa, where she honed her skills and expertise in Change Management and Organisational Transformation.

In her illustrious career, Morongwa has designed and implemented value adding programmes in the private and public sectors. She has advised on strategy and systems implementation, process re-engineering, people and change programmes and projects. She has developed solutions on the Balanced Scorecard for strategic planning, implementation and performance measurement; Change Management for successful business transformation initiatives; and Human Capital Management, Training & Facilitation. Having successfully completed over 30 projects, Morongwa has deep expertise in organisational and people transformation assignments since becoming an independent human talent consultant, trainer, facilitator and inspirational and motivational speaker.

Morongwa is a self-published Author of two books: 'When is Enough, Enough? Ten Things Any Aspiring Entrepreneur Needs to Know to Start and Run a Successful Business'; and 'Breakthrough to Your Destiny: You can Achieve the Success you Want, when you want, in the way you want, It all starts with YOU'.

